Experience

For over 20 years, Jay has served as advisor and consultant to businesses and business owners. Jay began his career as an audit manager with an international accounting and advisory firm, providing assurance services to publicly traded, multinational companies.

After six years as an audit manager, Jay transitioned into a director role with one of the nation's largest executive recruitment and strategic staffing firms. Human resource professionals, executives, and hiring managers engaged Jay to evaluate the depth and effectiveness of their organizational structure, identify resource gaps, and to recruit top talent for key financial management positions.

At DHG, Jay matches the needs of prospective and existing clients to the experience of DHG's partners and professional staff. He works closely with industry and service leaders to ensure the Firm provides valuable, relevant, and timely advice to clients. Jay is also responsible for expanding the Firm's client base and brand within DHG's Tennessee and Texas markets.
